1 Pauperis (#1)¹ and Complaints (#1-1) in the above captioned actions.

2 I. In Forma Pauperis Applications (#1)

3 Plaintiff Anaeme asserts in each of his applications to proceed in forma pauperis that he is 4 unemployed, a sole proprietor, an independent contract clinical and consultant pharmacist, and a law 5 student. (#1). Plaintiff asserts that he makes $150 an hour, and that he “received or recieve[s] monies 6 as gifts or loans during chance encounters with sympathizers and well-wishers in varied and 7 unpredictable amounts.” Id. Plaintiff has $8.00-$20 in his bank account, and his monthly expenses 8 include: $150-$500 for transportation, $1,000 in medical bills, $300 in litigation costs, and $600 for 9 laundry, food, and sundries. Id. Plaintiff states that he has medical bills of approximately $100,000, 10 owes Household Finance Corporation $20,000, owes approximately $20,000 in credit card bills, and 11 owes Bank of America and Wells Fargo Bank $2,000. Id.

12 During a hearing before this court in Case No. 2:12-cv-01038-GMN -VCF, the court asked 13 plaintiff if he was currently employed, when the last time he was employed, how much he made during 14 this employment, and in what capacity he worked. (#4)². Plaintiff stated that he is not currently 15 employed, that he last worked as a pharmacist from October 2007 - December 2007, and that he made 16 $150 per hour during that time. Id. Accordingly, plaintiff’s requests to proceed in forma pauperis are 17 granted pursuant to § 1915(a).

18 II. Screening Plaintiff’s Complaints (#1-1)

19 Upon granting a request to proceed in forma pauperis, a court must additionally screen a 20 complaint pursuant to § 1915(e). Specifically, federal courts are given the authority to dismiss a case 21 if the action is legally “frivolous or malicious,” fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted, 22 or seeks monetary relief from a defendant who is immune from such relief. § 1915(e)(2). “To survive

1 a motion to dismiss, a complaint must contain sufficient factual matter, accepted as true, to state a claim 2 to relief that is plausible on its face.” Ashcroft v. Iqbal, 129 S.Ct. 1937, 1949 (2009) (internal 3 quotations and citation omitted).

4 In considering whether the plaintiff has stated a claim upon which relief can be granted, all 5 material allegations in the complaint are accepted as true and are to be construed in the light most 6 favorable to the plaintiff. Russell v. Landrieu, 621 F.2d 1037, 1039 (9th Cir. 1980). Allegations of a 7 pro se complaint are held to less stringent standards than formal pleading drafted by lawyers. Haines
8 v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519, 520 (1972) (per curiam). When a court dismisses a complaint under § 1915(e), 9 the plaintiff should be given leave to amend the complaint with directions as to curing its deficiencies, 10 unless it is clear from the face of the complaint that the deficiencies could not be cured by amendment.
11 See Cato v. United States, 70 F.3d 1103, 1106 (9th Cir. 1995) (citation omitted).

12 A. Improper Venue

13 Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1390(a), “the term “venue” refers to the geographic specification of the 14 proper court or courts for the litigation of a civil action that is within the subject-matter jurisdiction of 15 the district courts in general, and does not refer to any grant or restriction of subject-matter jurisdiction 16 providing for a civil action to be adjudicated only by the district court for a particular district or 17 districts.” The proper venue for a civil action “shall be determined without regard to whether the action 18 is local or transitory in nature.” 28 U.S.C. § 1391(a)(2). “A civil action may be brought in a judicial 19 district in which any defendant resides, if all defendants are residents of the State in which the district 20 is located,” or “a judicial district in which a substantial part of the events or omission giving rise to the 21 claims occurred, or substantial part of property that is the subject of the action is situated...” 28 U.S.C.
22 § 1391(b)(1) and (2).

23 Plaintiff filed his complaints in the United States District Court for the District of Nevada. (#1-24 1). Plaintiff lists several pages of defendants, but does not state that any of the defendants are residents 25 of Nevada. Id. The defendants are primarily residents of Macon and Atlanta, Georgia, Tacoma, 26

1 Washington, Carmel, Indiana, La Mesa, San Diego, San Francisco, Chula Vista, Torrance, El Cajon, 2 and Beverly Hills, California, Albuquerque, New Mexico, Jacksonville, Florida, Augusta, Maine, 3 Denver, Colorado, Memphis, Tennessee, Newport and Portland, Oregon, Mount Prospect and Chicago, 4 Illinois, Albany and New York, New York, and Addison and El Paso, Texas. Id. Based on the 5 residency of the defendants, Nevada is not the proper venue for these actions. See 28 U.S.C. § 6 1391(b)(1).

7 In plaintiff's complaints, he asserts that "[t]he acts, omissions and transactions alleged to be 8 unlawful arise within the jurisdiction of the" United States District Courts for the Northern and Middle 9 Districts of Georgia, Northern District of Illinois, Southern and Northern Districts of California, District 10 of Nevada³, District of Oregon, Northern and Western Districts of Texas, District of Colorado, District 11 of Maine, and District of Georgia. (#1-1). Based on plaintiff's assertion, "a substantial amount of the 12 events or omissions giving rise to the claims occurred" outside of the District of Nevada, and this is not 13 the proper venue under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(2). Id.

14 "For the convenience of parties and witnesses, in the interest of justice, a district court may 15 transfer any civil action to any other district or division where it might have been brought..." 28 U.S.C.
 16 § 1404(a). The decision to transfer under § 1404(a) lies within the discretion of the district court and 17 should be determined based upon notions of convenience and fairness on a case-by-case basis. Stewart 18 Org., Inc. v. Ricoh Corp., 487 U.S. 22, 29 (1988). Sua Sponte dismissal based on improper venue is

20 ³ In Case Nos. 2:12-cv-01160-JCM -VCF, 2:12-cv-01276-JCM -VCF, 2:12-cv-01278-GMN -VCF, and 21 2:12-cv-01280-MMD -VCF plaintiff asserts that acts and omissions occurred in the District of Nevada. (#1-1).
 22 However, upon a review of the complaints, plaintiff does not allege that any wrongful acts took place in Nevada, and 23 only mentions Nevada when he seeks permission to amend his complaint, as "applicable relevant information" may 24 "become available to him as severally crucial applicable evidence are currently converted by...Reno, Nevada and U-25 Haul International, Inc." Id. The fact that evidence may be located in a district, does not satisfy the requirements of 28 26 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(1) and (2) that the district must be one where "a substantial part of the events or omission giving rise to the claims occurred, or [a] substantial part of property that is the subject of the action is situated..." In Case Nos.
 2:12-cv-01275-MMD -VCF and 2:12-cv-01277-MMD -VCF, plaintiff states that acts and omissions occurred in the District of Nevada, but fails to allege in the body of the complaints any wrongful acts that took place in this district and does not mention Nevada. Plaintiff has not satisfied the requirements of 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b)(1).

appropriate where “the defense is obvious from the face of the complaint and no further factual record is required to be developed.” Trujillo v. Williams, 465 F.3d 1210, 1217 (10th Cir. 2006). Upon a review of plaintiff’s complaints (#1) and history as a litigant in Federal Court, as discussed below, the court finds that transferring this action to a federal district where venue is proper is not “in the interest of justice.” Id.; See 28 U.S.C. § 1404(a).

B. Transferring Not Proper - Instant Complaints and History

1. Plaintiff’s Actions Before This Court

Plaintiff filed fourteen (14) actions in this court since September 28, 2011, some of which are not before the undersigned Magistrate Judge. The allegations in the complaints fall into four (4) categories: (1) transfer of plaintiff’s pharmacy license (2:11-cv-01572-PMP -RJJ, 2:11-cv-01573-JCM -PAL, 2:12-cv-01041-MMD-VCF, 2:12-cv-01160-JCM-VCF, 2:12-cv-01162-GMN-VCF, 2:12-cv-01275-MMD -VCF, and 2:12-cv-01276-JCM -VCF), (2) attorneys not returning documents to plaintiff (2:12-cv-01038-GMN -VCF and 2:12-cv-01279-JCM -VCF), (3) a dispute over a storage unit agreement, (2:12-cv-01182-GMN -VCF, 2:12-cv-01277-MMD-VCF, 2:12-cv-01278-GMN -VCF, and 2:12-cv-01280-MMD -VCF), and (4) a dispute arising out of the purchase of a Toyota Sienna (2:12-cv-01274-MMD -VCF). This court denied in forma pauperis in two of plaintiff’s actions (2:11-cv-01572-PMP -RJJ and 2:12-cv-01162-GMN-VCF) and granted in forma pauperis and either recommended dismissal of or dismissed the complaint in two of plaintiff’s actions (2:11-cv-01573-JCM -PAL and 2:12-cv-01038-GMN -VCF). The remaining actions have been transferred to the undersigned Magistrate Judge.

Each of plaintiff’s complaints before the undersigned Magistrate Judge are between forty-eight (48) to sixty (60) pages long, name between forty-seven (47) to one-hundred and twenty-one (121) defendants (many of which are the same), and seek relief against other parties that are not named as defendants. (#1-1). The claims are disjointed, repetitive, and exceptionally difficult to follow. Id. Not only are the allegations and claims within plaintiff’s complaints (#1-1) repetitive, but the actions

1 themselves are duplicative of each other (as evidenced by the categories of topics discussed above) and 2 of actions filed and dismissed in other districts (discussed below).

3 2. Plaintiff's Filing History In Other Districts

4 In 2011, plaintiff filed three actions in the District of Southern California (3:11-cv-1906-JAH-5 WVG, 3:11-cv-1808-JAH-BLM, and 3:11-cv-1605-LAB-MDD) naming several of the same defendants 6 named in the actions before this court. All three of plaintiff's complaints in California were dismissed 7 sua sponte. Case Nos. 2:12-cv-01038-GMN -VCF and 2:12-cv-01279-JCM -VCF filed in this court 8 are nearly identical to an action plaintiff filed in the United States District Court for the District of 9 Colorado on February 22, 2012 (Case No. 1:12-cv-00460-LTB) (hereinafter the "Colorado Action").
 10 In the Colorado Action, plaintiff asserted that attorneys who represented him in the State of New 11 Mexico refused to return his files to him. (#9)⁴. Upon a review of the plaintiff's complaint, the court 12 in the Colorado Action dismissed the action for lack of proper venue and ordered plaintiff to show cause 13 why he should not be enjoined from filing any future vexatious and frivolous filings in the District of 14 Colorado. Id. The court found that transferring the action was inappropriate due to the nature of the 15 complaint before the court and plaintiff's filing history. Id.

16 The court found that plaintiff's complaint could not survive because it (1) was ninety-two pages 17 long, (2) was filled with "disjointed and repetitive" claims, (3) listed over 200 individuals in the 18 complaint and only named five as defendants, (4) was incomprehensible, and (5) did not satisfy 19 jurisdictional requirements. Id. The court in the Colorado Action also addressed plaintiff's ability to 20 file actions in that district. Id. The court noted that based on the docket from the United States District 21 of New Mexico, plaintiff is "conditionally barred from initiating pro se lawsuits in the State of New 22 Mexico without prior approval from the court or representation by a licensed New Mexico attorney..."
 23 Id. In barring plaintiff, the New Mexico court found that, prior to 2005, plaintiff filed fifteen (15) 24 actions in the District of New Mexico against various private individuals and governmental entities, 25 ⁴ Docket numbers in this section refer to the docket in the Colorado Action (Case No. 1:12-cv-00460-LTB).

 26

1 with another four (4) actions being removed to the District of New Mexico. Id. Many of plaintiff's 2 actions that were filed or removed to the New Mexico court named the same entities and individuals, 3 alleged the same claims for relief, and were based on the same factual allegations. Id. The New Mexico 4 court attached an appendix to its order enjoining plaintiff, which described plaintiff's history of 5 "frivolous and vexatious" litigation. Id. The Colorado court attached the same to its order. Id.

6 The Colorado court gave plaintiff thirty (30) days to show cause why he should not be enjoined 7 from future filings. Id. On April 16, 2012, plaintiff filed his response to the order to show cause.
 8 (#11). On April 30, 2012, the court issued an order imposing filing restrictions on plaintiff. (#12). The 9 Colorado court stated that nothing plaintiff asserted in his response (#11) "shows good cause why the 10 [c]ourt should not subject him to filing restrictions." Id.

11 C. Order To Show Cause - Relevant Law

12 1. Dismissal of Claims

13 Pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B), a district court "shall dismiss the case at any time if the 14 court determines that . . . the action . . . (1) is frivolous or malicious; (2) fails to state a claim upon 15 which relief may be granted; or (3) seeks monetary relief against a defendant who is immune from such 16 relief." 28 U.S.C. § 1915(e)(2)(B). The term "frivolous" when applied to a complaint embraces not 17 only the inarguable legal conclusion but also the fanciful factual allegation. Neitzke v. Williams, 490 18 U.S. 319, 325 (1989); see also Cato v. United States, 70 F.3d 1103, 1106 (9th Cir. 1995). While an in 19 forma pauperis complaint may not be dismissed simply because the court finds the plaintiff's 20 allegations unlikely, a finding of factual frivolousness is appropriate when the facts alleged rise to the 21 level of the irrational or the wholly incredible, whether or not there are judicially noticeable facts 22 available to contradict them. Denton v. Hernandez, 504 U.S. 25, 33 (1992).

23 2. Requirements for Vexatious Litigant Order

24 The All Writs Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1651(a), empowers federal district courts to enjoin vexatious 25 litigants who have a history of abusing the court's limited resources. De Long v. Hennessey, 912 F.2d 26

1 1144, 1147 (9th Cir. 1990) (citing Tripati v. Beaman, 878 F.2d 351, 352 (10th Cir. 1989)). Under the 2 All Writs Act, a district court can order a person with lengthy histories of abusive litigation—a 3 vexatious litigant—to obtain leave of the court before filing any future lawsuits. Molski v. Evergreen 4 Dynasty Corp., 500 F.3d 1047, 1057 (9th Cir. 2007).

5 In deciding whether or not to restrict a litigant’s access to the courts, “[u]ltimately, the question 6 the court must answer is whether a litigant who has a history of vexatious litigation is likely to continue 7 to abuse the judicial process and harass other parties.” Molski v. Mandarin Touch Rest., 347 F.Supp.2d 8 860, 863–64 (C.D. Cal. 2004) (quoting Safir v. United States Lines, Inc., 792 F.2d 19, 23 (2nd Cir.
9 1986). In doing so, the court should examine five factors: (1) the litigant’s history of litigation and in 10 particular whether it entailed vexatious, harassing, or duplicative lawsuits; (2) the litigant’s motive in 11 pursuing the litigation, e.g., does the litigant have an objective good faith expectation of prevailing?; 12 (3) whether the litigant is represented by counsel; (4) whether the litigant has caused needless expense 13 to other parties or has posed an unnecessary burden on the courts and their personnel; and (5) whether 14 other sanctions would be adequate to protect the courts and other parties. Id. at 864.

15 “Flagrant abuse of the judicial process cannot be tolerated because it enables one person to 16 preempt the use of judicial time that properly could be used to consider the meritorious claims of other 17 litigants.” DeLong, 912 F.2d at 1148. However, the Ninth Circuit has cautioned the district courts by 18 recognizing that vexatious litigant orders are an extreme remedy, and should rarely be entered. De 19 Long, 912 F.2d at 1148 (citing Wood v. Santa Barbara Chamber of Commerce, Inc., 705 F. 2d 1515, 20 1523-26 (9th Cir. 1984)). This is because such an order restricts access to the courts—the litigant’s 21 “final safeguard for vitally important constitutional rights.” Wood, 705 F.2d at 1525. “An injunction 22 cannot issue merely upon a showing of litigiousness. The plaintiff’s claims must not only be numerous, 23 but also be patently without merit.” Moy v. U.S., 906 F.2d 467, 470 (9th Cir. 1990) (citing In re Oliver, 24 682 F.2d 443, 446 (3d Cir. 1982)).

3. Enjoining Vexatious Litigant

If a litigant is deemed vexatious, he/she will be enjoined from filing any further action or papers in this district without first obtaining leave of the Chief Judge of this court. In order to file any papers, the vexatious litigant must first file an application for leave. The application must be supported by a declaration of plaintiff stating: (1) that the matters asserted in the new complaint or papers have never been raised and disposed of on the merits by any court; (2) that the claim or claims are not frivolous or made in bad faith; and (3) that he has conducted a reasonable investigation of the facts and investigation supports his claim or claims. A copy of the order deeming the litigant vexatious must be attached to any application. Failure to fully comply will be sufficient grounds for denial of the application. De Long v. Hennessey, 912 F.2d 1144, 1146–47 (9th Cir. 1990).

Accordingly, and for good cause shown,

IT IS ORDERED that plaintiff Chibueze C. Anaeme's Motions/Applications to Proceed In Forma Pauperis (#1) are GRANTED.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that plaintiff is permitted to maintain the actions to conclusion without necessity of prepayment of any additional fees, costs, or security. This Order granting forma pauperis status shall not extend to the issuance of subpoenas at government expense.

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that plaintiff show cause why the United States District Court for the District of Nevada should not enjoin plaintiff, in the manner described in Sections II(C)(2) and (3) above, from filing any future pro se actions in this district and should not DISMISS his complaints.

...

...

...

1 IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that plaintiff must file a response to this order on or before 2 October 10, 2012. If plaintiff fails to file a response, the court will issue a report and recommendation 3 recommending that the court enter an order dismissing the above captioned actions with prejudice and 4 enjoining plaintiff from filing in this district.

5 DATED this 6th day of September, 2012.
